Chair's Report

A review of the last year for Swimming Wellington naturally falls into two parts - before and after New Zealand's Alert Level 4 lockdown.

The 2019/2020 swimming year has been challenging for a number of reasons. Despite that I feel it's important to have a balanced outlook - celebrate the positive events and developments, acknowledge the difficult ones, and look to the future.

2019/2020

With so much happening in the last 3-4 months of the swimming year, it would be easy to focus on that period. But so much more happened earlier in the year to recognise and celebrate. The year started with Lewis Clareburt's wonderful achievement in winning bronze at the World Championships in July 2019. The result was recognised by Swimming New Zealand, with Lewis winning the Swimming NZ International Swimmer of the Year and Overall Swimmer of the Year Awards for 2019.

The year also saw Chelsey Edwards recognised for her achievements by being part of the Women's 4x200m freestyle relay team that qualified New Zealand for the Tokyo Olympics and being named as College Sport Wellington Sportswoman of the Year 2019. Sam Brown continued a positive year for the region's swimmers, being named 14-15 Swimmer of the Meet at the Australian State Championships.

I also want to recognise each individual swimmer's own achievements throughout the year. No matter what level our swimmers are at, there are goals they set themselves and achieve. Seeing the joy on a swimmer's face when they achieve their goal, whether it's competing in their first race, nailing a skill they have focused on, or achieving that elusive PB, is a great reminder about why all of us involved in swimming do what we do. It's about giving the swimmers the opportunity to be their best. The reward is seeing them achieve that.

The year also saw improvements in our events. The inaugural Open Water event was squeezed in just before lockdown. There was plenty of debate about whether to proceed when initial entry numbers were lower than hoped. But sometimes, for the first event, you just have to take the initiative and run with it, knowing the event will only grow in the future. And on the day we were fortunate to have perfect weather, and a good number of walk up entrants. My thanks go to all those involved for starting this new event. Good lessons were learned. I know it will only grow and become more successful in the future.

Tier 1 meets continue to develop well with increases in participant numbers. Holding a Junior Championship in December is proving a positive development, with numbers of participants increasing markedly this year. Wellington Long Course Championships also saw an increase in participants, mainly due to an increase in out of town swimmers. That is recognition of well-run events with a high level of competition that out of town swimmers want to compete against. The challenge is how to increase the number of Wellington-based participants. A focus for Swimming Wellington going forward is to continually evolve our meets to support the evolving needs of swimmers.

Another highlight for me was the launch of Tog Box with Water Safety New Zealand. Swimming Wellington was influential in developing the concept and helping to launch the initiative. It is a great example of how our community can give back to others.

Alongside those and many other positives, it was a difficult and disappointing year financially. I understand and empathise with the frustration those involved in swimming in the region will feel about the financial result. While some unique and unavoidable circumstances contributed to the result, no one wants to see such a significant hit to Swimming Wellington's reserves. The challenge for the Board now is to stabilise finances over the 2020/2021 swimming year, while still ensuring sufficient resources to secure the long term development of swimming in our region.

Looking forward

Which brings me to the “looking forward” part of this report. Swimming in New Zealand is at an evolutionary point. There has been a clear move over the last year in New Zealand sports towards a focus on participation and having fun, and away from specialisation in a particular sport at an early age. Sport New Zealand is leading this with its Every Body Active strategic direction, and Balance is Better approach and messaging. Swimming New Zealand is on board, and it was great to hear at the SNZ roadshow in November 2019 about the need to refocus our efforts and try different things in order to stabilise and grow our sport.

The SNZ Competition Restructure and Competitive Pathway Review is also a step towards the future. I was encouraged by our region’s engagement in consultation on the review. Of the 14 clubs nationwide who submitted a response, 4 were from the Wellington region. Of the 68 individuals who submitted a response, 12 were from the Wellington region, second only to individual responses from Canterbury West Coast. This tells me clubs and people in the Swimming Wellington region are fully engaged in their sport and its development.

The new competition structure is a great outcome. It presents the opportunity for us to align our meet framework, structure, purpose and officiating to the SNZ competition structure. It also presents the opportunity to refocus our strategy on participation and having fun – building a broader and stronger base to our pyramid of participants – and at the same time providing the support and development opportunities that our higher performing swimmers need to be their best.

Of course this all has to be done in a post-COVID 19 world. The Covid situation crystallised amateur sports organisations’ reliance on trust finding, and the risks associated with that. It has brought forward the need to rethink and revolutionise the funding model.

The challenge is not unique to swimming, and there is no short term fix. There is a significant challenge for us to rise to of managing the day-to-day, while planning for a different medium and long-term future, all within a significantly constrained financial envelope. Tackling that challenge requires an openness to new, different, flexible and adaptable ways of doing things.

I encourage all of you involved in swimming in our region, whether as swimmers, parents/care givers, coaches, officials, club committee members or other volunteers to get in behind the great opportunity we have to make a difference to the long term future of our sport. Challenge yourselves and others to think differently. Try new and different things, learn from them and then adapt them. Collaborate, share ideas, and let others know what works and what doesn’t. Working together across all areas of our sport in our region is the greatest chance we have for success.

Thank you

I want to finish by acknowledging and thanking the people without who we wouldn’t be able to achieve what we do.

Martyn, Angus and Sharon – thank you for your continued, dedicated efforts. You always rise to whatever challenges you are set.

Volunteers, including officials, meet organisers, club committees, and parents/care givers – thank you. You are the core of support for our sport. We couldn’t do it without you.

Swimmers – thank you for the efforts you put into our sport. I never stop being amazed by your dedication and positive attitudes.

Chris Birkinshaw – Chair, Swimming Wellington

Technical Officials' Report

Compared to the rest of the world, Covid-19's impact on Wellington swimming has been modest, with just a handful of local meets directly affected to date. However at national level the impacts have been more profound, with National Age Groups (scheduled for Wellington) and NZ Opens cancelled. (At the time of writing, it has just been announced that August's NZ Secondary Schools champs will be postponed.) Internationally, the Oceania Championships in Fiji did not take place and the Olympics Games in Japan were deferred for 12 months and their future remains in serious doubt.

While I admit a small part of me that enjoyed a short breather from a constant schedule of club, regional and national meets, Covid-19 has been a real tragedy for our swimmers who missed out on opportunities to compete over this time. Here's hoping that a corner will soon be turned and we will be on our way back to some form of normalcy.

Despite Covid, it's been a busy year with a heavy focus on training as usual. This year our programme included the first of what are to be annual seminars for referees. All qualified referees are required to attend at least one seminar every two years – to ensure they keep up-to-date with the latest developments in officiating rules and protocols, and stay abreast with all local, national and international requirements. This year's seminar included a good contingent of officials from Manawatu, and there was plenty of engaged and robust conversation.

It's also been a great year in terms of the numbers of qualified officials in the region. Our overall officials count has increased. Of particular note are the 10 officials who achieved national qualifications. It is great that we have officials with this level of experience and commitment. Thanks to Matt Meehan, our representative on SNZ Technical Advisory committee (TAC), who conducted all of these national assessments.

The total number of officials who achieved qualifications in the 2019/20 year was as follows:

- 1 x regional referee
- 2 x regional judges of strokes (JOS)
- 10 x national inspectors of turns (IOTs)
- 6 x regional IOTs

In recent months our focus has been on analysing the final report of SNZ's Competition Restructure & Competitive Pathway Review. While the regional technical officials panel (RTOP) is supportive of the reduction in the number of qualifying meets for national championships, we are aware that a reduced number of 'approved' meets means reduced training opportunities – for officials at all levels. At present we are in regular communication with SNZ to understand the implications of the new competition structure on our training programme.

As usual I'd like to thank all those who supported one or more meets in a technical or volunteer capacity over the year. In particular:

Everyone who officiated (or volunteered in any capacity) at a meet in Wellington this season – you're a hero

My fellow RTOP members – Jacqui, Hugh, Barbara, Craig and Brent

Matt Meehan – who recently advised he will shortly stand down from the TAC after many years.

Pam, Noel and the team that wrangle and tame the various hardware and software components required to deliver electronic timing at meets at WRAC and Coastlands

Pool staff at all the pools used by Wellington clubs and the region – especially WRAC and Coastlands

The team at Swimming Wellington.

Last but by no means least – the SW clubs' officials coordinators – we are indebted to your hard work ensuring our meets routinely have the required number of officials – a heartfelt thanks to all of you.

Before I sign-off I'd like to encourage everyone in the community to recognise the contribution made by technical officials. Fairness is the cornerstone of any competitive sport. It is critical that any official with the power to recommend a disqualification has sufficient knowledge and experience to fairly apply the rules. The accumulated experience of technical officials at any swim meet represents many thousands of hours of commitment, persistence and diligence – there are no short-cuts. And without exception, every single technical official in New Zealand is a volunteer. So, next time you're at a swim meet, take the time to thank a technical official – you can be sure they've earned it.

Greg Forsythe
